Chicago Orders All Places of Public Assemblage Closed Tight.

Until Building Ordinances Are Complied With, More Than Five Thousand Halls Are Under Ban - Flagrant Violations All Over City-Fourth Day of Funerals Repeats Sad Scenes - City Council Adopts Rules.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—After tonight it will, for some weeks at least, be practically impossible to hold a public meeting of any kind in Chicago, outside the churches. Building Commissioner Williams tonight issued an order closing all halls, dance halls, turner halls, and similar places of public assemblage until inspection has shown that they are complying with all provisions of the building ordinance.

As there are more than 5000 halls in Chicago, this order will affect probably as many persons as the theater-closing order. Protests were numerous, but the Building Commissioner was inflexible. He said: "Many of these halls are worse than any theater in Chicago, some of them are put up with no restrictions such as govern theaters in Chicago, and many of them are fire traps of the worst kind."

Williams was notified tonight of the election of Joseph Downey, a prominent contractor and trustee of the Board of Education and ex-Building Commissioner, as chairman of the joint committee selected by Mayor Harrison's request by the various architects and builders' associations to inspect all of the down-town theaters. Mayor Harrison and several Aldermen who have been appointed members of the City Council committee to ontrol legislation in regard to these of the manager of the theater to pay two deliars for each man at every prefermance.

Edward H. Price of the "Bluebard Company."

"I should say," Price said, "that between ninety and one hundred tickets were sold after the theater was entirely filled. The day's receipts amounted to something over $1378."

Little result followed the examination of seven men of the double octette which was on the stage when the fire broke out. It was especied that the men who were arrested immediately after the fire would have much information, but the contrary was the case. "We kept on singing and dancing, and did not even know that there was a fire until sparks fell upon the stage and two girls in the double octette fainted," said William Sielck, the first witness called. "It is the rule of the stage that we are fined if we turn our faces for an instant from the audience. All I know is that we stuck to our work until we had to run for our lives."

Predict a Continuance of Good Times in the Middle West-Crops

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

HICAGO, Jan. 4.—(Enclusive Dispatch.) Taking into consideration all sorts of business centering in Chicago, the year 1903, while not as prosperous as 1902, must, on the whole, and in spite of the falling-off of the last few months, be counted among the linest prosperous years ever known in this section of the country. In the coming year in the Middle West promises steady recovery and a fair measure of good times.

The past year is looked back on with great pride by Chicago financial people. During the year the clearings of the Chicago banks reached a new high-record mark of $5,00,000,000, or $400,000.

The railroad earnings of the West, on the whole, broke all previous records. The volume of traffic was enormous, and surprised even the most far-signted managers. The business of freed was so immense as to require anormous expenditures of money on lines and equipment, and it is the opinion of the railroad authorities that the condition of the miliored authorities that the reads should now be in a position to get the benefits of their outlays.

all remaining public lands in this locality have been withdrawn subject to entry only under the Reclamation Act. An extensive reservoir site has been surveyed in detail during the past season. Irrigwise lands are being mapped and classified. The whole situation is dependent upon the factor of the remaining available water supply. In order to determine this capacity, reservoirs must be found, the flow of streams determined and present diversion canals closely gauged.

"The people of this community are exceedingly anxious to have the government store the surplus flood waters and regulate the stream flow, not only for the benefit of their tands, the supply for which is now somewhat irregular, but also for extending the irrigated areas. It is probable that a trainage system in connection with the general development will have to be constructed, as large areas of land in this valley now have been ruined by the excessive use of water, and it is believed the available supply can be materially increased by their adequate drainage.

NEW YORK'S GEMENT FOR DAM CHEAP. SPRECKELS PUTS IN BID. [BY DERECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.] A saving of at least $400,-600 in the cost of cement for Tento Basin dam is promised by the bid for the first lot of 1000 barrels "or more" received today from the Pacific Portland Cement Company of San Francisco, which offers to deliver cement at Globe for $4.80 per barrel. Two hundred thousand barrels of cement will be used in the construction of the dam, and in estimating the cost the government engineers learned that cement was costing a mining company in Globe $6.30 per barrel. Adding the haul of fifty miles over a mountain trail to the dam, they estimated that the cement would cost $9 per barrel at the site of the dam, or a total of $1,500,000. Believing that it could be manufactured much cheaper, a cement mill was purchased, and is to be installed. Cement manufacturers made a vigorous protest against the sovernment entering into the man-CEMENT FOR DAM CHEAP. DEMOCRATS.

Olney is Introduced as the "Pride of New England."

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Absent in the flesh though he was, of neasesty. William J. Bryan's ghost haunted the Democratic feast held in Sherry's last night, a dread reminder to those assembled there that the gentleman from Nebraska may refuse to be eliminated from the situation in the coning Presidential campaign. The promoters of the dinner to Mayer McCleilan purposely set the date for a time when they knew Mr. Bryan would be on the ocean, and then sent him an invitation, congratulating themselves on the fact that it would be impossible for him to accept it. They reckoned, however, without Marcont. Bryan, taking advantage of the wireless tellegraph, managed to inject himself into the occasion by means of a message, which, although short, had one portentous sentence, so it might be called a warning.

a cement mill was purchased, and is to be installed. Cement manufacturers made a vigorous protest against the government entering into the manufacture of cement, and stated they believed concessions could be secured from the railroads which would bring the price down to $5.65 per barrel, delivered at Globs. To test this proposition the department advertised for bids on a thousand barrels or more, the bids to be opened today.

Up to within a few minutes of the hour for opening the bids none had been received, and it looked as though the manufacturers intended to ignore the matter, but a bid from J. D. Spreckels, Sons & Ca., of San Francisco, selling agents of the Pacific Portand Cement Company, was received, offering to furnish 1000 barrels at $4.50 per barrel, or in carload lots at the same price. This is a reduction of $2 ps; 1-rrel from the original estimate, and 65 cents per barrel less than the lowest figures heretofore quoted, indicating that the concessions from the railroads have exceeded expectations. The department can accept or reject this bid, or attempt to secure a reduction in it by correspondence. This same company recently reduced its bid on cement for the Truckee project 20 cents a barrel, on account of which it was finally awarded the contract. It is understood that no decision in this matter will be reached until next week. ment of most of the 500 persons present.

RUN TO GROUND AT LAST.

Mr. Bryan, and returned him cordial greeting.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED FRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 4—Democrats of prominence from the city, State and nation assembled here tonight at the dinner at Sherry's in honor of George B. McClellan, the newly-installed Mayor of New York City. Among those present were Richard Oiney of Massachusetts, David B. Hill of New York, Congressman De Armond of Missouri, Charles A. Towne, Ex-Gov. Pattison of Pennsylvania, William A. Gaston of Boston and Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall. Grover Cleveland, Judge Alton B. Parker, Senator Gorman of Maryland, and Senator Morgan

The speakers included Mayor McCleilan, Mr. Olney. Gov. Montague of Virginia, Mr. Hill, Mr. Towne and Congressman de Armond, Bourke Cockran was toastmaster. Mr. McCleilan, the first speaker, asked his heavers to Jolp with him "in sending from this Democratic gathering, in this great Democratic elty, the glad news to our brethren throughout the land that wa Democrats of New York are resolute in our purpose to wrest the State and nation from Republican misrule."

Mr. Olney was introduced as a diplomatist who had never followed the policy of wandering around the world seeking quarrels with weaker nations and as the "pride of New England, but enthroned in the hearts of all his countrymen." Mr. Olney said:

"In matters of foreign policy, the Democratic party will stand for international morality and decent international morality and decent international conduct; for observance of treaties and obedience to international law; for respect for the rights of every nation, however small: for refusal to take by stealth or by robbery what we have no right to get except by consent of the owners; for continuing our traditional role as the defender of the weaker States of this hemisphere, instead of becoming their spoilator; for minding our business generally, without meddling with the internal affairs of foreign courbries, and without making rumons and trivial events the pretexts for military demonstrations in foreign ports. GOVERNMENT'S SET-BACK.

Judge Vandeventer's ruling quashes the indictment against Senator Dietrich charging conspiracy. It was on this indictment that the government had prepared itself for trial, and to testify in which a large number of vitnesses had been subpoensed and were present in the city. Aside from the indictment charging the Senator with profiling by the leasing of a building to the United States government while a member of Concress, there still remains an indictment charging him directly with bribery in connection with the appointment of a postmaster at Hastings. RUN TO GROUND AT LAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—After a pursuit of three months, United States Secret Service Agent Hasen today arrested Thomas Davis, accused of assaulting Mrs. A. H. Ames of Marshfield, Or., while she was a passenger on the steamer Alliance.

The woman claimed that Davis, who was a waiter, brought her a gizza of three months and two other little children with her. The alleged crime was of such gravity that the United "atea Attorney-General required the secret-service people to hunt down Davis, who had been missing from his usual hadnts. The night, watchman of the stagmer, who is held here as a witness, says Davis confessed the crime to him.

David B. Hill was greeted with loud applause when, in his introductory remarks, he culorised the leadership of Charles F. Murphy, and predicted that Mayor McClellan would succeed him as Governor of the State and precede him in the White House.

Mr. Hill characterised the course of President Rockevell in the Panama affair as a "species of contemptible machination unworthy of the head of a great nation," prompted by percental ambitton and a sesire to startle and damle the people; part and parcel of a political scheme to prematurely force his own nomination for the Presidency and to preclude the consideration of the name of any other court within his own party," and "a cheap and transparent play to the gallery," Congress, he said, alone has power

"We can't lose him," said one of the diners, who doubtless voiced the sentiment of most of the 500 persons present.

WASHINGTON OPTIMISTIC.

Russia and Japan continued optimistic in Washington today. Although no positive news was received by the State Department, by the Russian Embass)
here, or by the Japanese Legation. here, or by the Japanese Legation, it was noticeable that, whereas for the last ten days, there has been a feeling that war could not possibly he averted, today there was a much more hopeful feeling.

American statesmen who have been studying the situation in the Far East say that if war does not come, it will be because Russia is wholly unprepared for the conflict. She needs to get an immense army into Manchuria before she can start a war. It is estimated by the pro-Russian people that Russia might possibly send 1000 troops per day into Manchuria over the Trans-Siberian Raliroad. At that rate, it would require some three months Trans-Siberian Railroad. At that rate, it would require some three months for her to get the troops she needs into the field, and her play therefore would be to hold off war for that time. An American army officer of highest rank said today that Russia cannot send 500 troops per day into Manchuria over her railroad, and therefore it would be six months before she would be ready for war.

Add to that Russia's well-known disgust with her occupancy of Manchuria on account of its enormous cost, even in times when no war portends, and Washington has figured out that a powerful influence for peace prevails within Russia's own borders.

ment is not that of recognition of Pan-ama, as an independent republic; that already is an accomplished fact; the only question is whether or not we abali build an isthmian canal."

That sentence carried the day in Washington; it broke down appar-ently all opposition to the Panama Ca-nal treaty instantly upon its being made public, for those Democratic leaders who have heretofore been re-bellious against that treaty came inellious against that treaty came in stantly to the realization that to op-pose the treaty, after such words as those from the President of the United States would be to do an obviously un-patriotic thing, which no political party could ever do and hope for political power.

When it was announced some days ago that the President proposed to send to Congress a special message. explaining and justifying his course reexplaining and justifying his course re-garding the new republic of Panama, political wise men wagged their heads and said that whenever any President attempted to explain, he was lost, but when the same men came today to read the Chief Executive's clean-cut narrawhen the ame men came today to read the Chief Executive's clean-cut narrative of what happened in Panama and his conclusions and deductions from these happenings, they instantly changed their minds and agreed that he showed exceeding political and economic windom in taking the people of United States in particular, and the whole world in general into his confidence, and teiling them exactly what the course of this administration is regarding Panama, and what measures the country has taken to secure the construction of the canal, and that it is the only route now available. Taken all in all, this special message made an unexpectedly good impression in Washington. THE CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION. [BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—SENATE.—Rev. Edward Everett Hale pronounced the invocation in the Senate on the convening of that body today. Dr. Hale, who was elected chaplain just before the holiday recess, wore ecclesiastical robes.

Mr. Lodge gave notice that he would address the Senate on the Panama Canal question tomorrow.

At 12:30 p.m. a message from the President was received by the Senate and its reading began.

The reading of the message was completed at 1:45 o'clock. Upon the pending resolution of Mr. Morgan, declaring "that neither the President, nor the President and the Senate, as the treaty-making power of the United States, has the lawful power to wage or declare war against any foreign or declare war against any foreign power without the consent of Congress, when such country is at peace with the United States," Mr. McCornas of Maryland began a discussion of the isthmian situation, in which he characterized the President's message as "a clearly cogent and abundantly-convincing presentation of the situation."

Mr. Culberson questioned the right of the Executive to make such a recognition, but Mr. McComas maintained positively that the Executive had such authority, and he could bring to the attention of the Senate two instances in which the same power had been exercised.

Mr. Tillman wanted the instances cited, and Mr. McComas promised later to present them.

"But I want to know," broke in Mr. Tillman, "whether the Senator contends that the Executive, without the instruction of the Congress, can employ the army and navy to defend his executive action by warning away and preventing Colombia from asserting her supremacy anywhere except on the Panama Railroad."

In answer Mr. McComas referred Mr. M ing power of the United States be withdrawn.

"For many years," replied Mr. Mc-Comas. He added that but for the restraining power of the United States, the independence of Panama would have been established long ago.

Mr. McComas, addressing the Democratic side, declared that some excellent men have made a political blunder, and have mistaken their partisanship for a moral sense. He would say, he added, this opposition was not only unpatriotic, but it was perversely, persistently wrong.

Mr. Stewart followed with an indorsement of the course of the administration on the Panama question, although, he said, he had formerly been in favor of the Nicaragua routs. Mr. Stewart declared that the object of Colombia

. . . First and Spring was to delay matters until the expira-tion of the French canal concession. "It is time," he added, "we should be-gin to treat them according to their true characters, as highway robbers, levying blackmail on the nations of the

The Speaker overruled the point of order.

ARMY-NAVY BOARD REFORTS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRUSS-PM.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—A report submitted by the Joint Army and Navy Board, of which Admiral Dewey is the senior member, relative to fortifications for the Philippines, transmitted to the House today by Secretaries Root and Moody, says in part: "The policy of Congress may be assumed to be to hold the Philippines in American possession as against any foreign enemy, but although the islands have been in our possession now more than five years, not a gun has been mounted nor an earthwork raised to protect any of our harbors."

The report recites that the board "has the honor to submit to the government its judgment that the national policy, as expressed in Congress, cannot be maintained in war unless provision is made for defense."

The Board, it is said, is unanimously of the opinion: "That without a fortified naval base in the Philippines, the Asiatic fieet cannot keep open the lines of communication for supplies from the United States or between the army posts within the Philippines, without which supplies the military forces of the United States could not hold command of the islands.

"That Manila is not, but that Subig Bay is, suited for a naval base and station, and of all harbors in the archipelago it is the best for the purpose.

DEATH RECORD.

Abstract of Interesting State Paper Sent to Congress Yesterday.

Recognition of the New Republic Justified by the Interest of Collective Civilization-By Prompt Action of This Government Loss and Bloodshed Were Prevented-One Question Remains , the Digging of the Canal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.]

"One of the men standing highest in the official circles of Colombia, on November 6 addressed the American Minister at Bogota, saying that if the government of the United States would land troops to preserve Colombian sovereignty and the transit, the Colombian sovereignty and the transit, the Colombian sovereignty and the transit, the colombian government would declare martial law; and by virtue of vested constitutional authority, when public order is disturbed (would) approve by decree the ratification of the canal treaty as signed; or, if the government of the United States prefers, (would) call an extra session of the Congress—with new and friendly members—next May, to approve the Ireaty. "Third—Finally, the Congress definitely settled where the canal was to be built. It was provided that a treaty should be made for building the canal across the Isthmus of Panama; and if, after reasonable time, it proved impossible to secure such treaty, then we should go to Nicaragua. The treaty has been made; for it needs no argument to show that the intent of the Congress was to insure a canal across Panama."

The President relates the delay of he President be unable to obtain for he United States a satisfactory title to he property of the New Panama Caal Company and the control of the ecessary territory from the republic of Colombia—within a reasonable time and upon reasonable terms, then the resident should endeavor to provide or a canal by the Nicaragua route."

"The language quoted," says the recision what was to be done, and that, as a matter of fact, has been one. The President was authorised or go to the Nicaragua route only if, within a reasonable time, he could not bitain 'control of the necessary territory of the republic of Colombia. This ontrol has now been obtained; the provision of the act has been compiled with; it is no longer possible under existing circumstances to go to the Nicaragua route as an alternative.

"This act marked the climax of the fiforty on the part of the Unuod States o secure, so far as legislation was construed, an interoceanic canal across the sthmus. The effort to secure a treaty by the this purpose with one of the Central American republic did not stand in the same footing with the effort to secure a treaty under ordinary conditions."

THE PROPER POSITION.

November 3 Commander John Hub-bard of the Nashville had reported to the Navy Department that four hun-dred Colombian troops from Cartagena had landed in Colon and that the situa-tion of the colon and that the situadred Colombian troops from Cartagena had landed in Colom and that the situation was most critical. The President them quotes from Commander Hubbard's report of November 5, to the Navy Depariment, in which the commander said the occurrences of November 3 had "amounted to practically the making of war against the United States by the officers in command of the Colombian troops in Colon."

The United States Consul had received notice from Col. Torres to the effect that if the Colombian officers. Gens. Tobal and Amaya, who had been seized in Panama, November 3, by the independents, were not released by 3 o'clock, he, Torres, "would open fire on the town of Colon and kill every United States citizen in the place."

Commander Hubbard then relates the landing of the forty-two marines, under command of Lieut.-Commander Witsel, as told in the press dispatches at one time, and the threatening attitude of the native soldiers while the United States marines were entrenched in the railroad company's shed, where our citizens had taken refuge. Commander Hubbard told also of refusing to allow Supt. Shaler of the Panama Railway to transport troops for either side. The President continues:

TOO LONG DELAYED.

"This plain official account of the american to the movement of the American worships had been too long delayed: so long, in fact, that there were but forty-two marines and saliors available to land and protect the lives of American warships had been too long delayed: so long, in fact, that there were but forty-two marines and saliors available to land and protect the lives of American warships had been too long delayed: so long, in fact, that there were but forty-two marines and saliors available to land and protect the lives of American warships had been too long delayed: so long, in fact, that here were but forty-two marines and saliors available to long and an article in the New York Evening Post under date of Panama, December 3, in which, in an interview, a near near the line of Panama, December 3, in which, in an inte we might build it."

"The Hay-Herran treaty," saws the President, "if it erred at all, exced in the direction of over-generosity toward the Colombian government. In our anxiety to be fair, we had gone to the very verge in yielding to a weak matidin's demands what that mation was feightedly unable to force from us against our will. The only criticism made upon the administration for the terms of the Hay-Herran treaty was for having granted too much to Colombia, not for failure to get enough. Neither in the Congress, nor in the public press at the time this treaty was formulated was there complaint that it did not in the full and amplest manner guarantee to Colombia eyerything she could by any color of title demand.

"Nor is the fact to be lost sight of that the rejected treaty, while generously responding to the pecuniary demands of Colombia, in other respects merely provided for the construction of the canal in conformity with the sugress requirements of the Act of the Congress of June 28, 1902."

COLOMBIA'S SOVEREIGNIT.

Costinuing, the President says:

"The treaty, instead of requiring a cession of Colombia's sovereignty over the canal strip, expressly acknowledged, confirmed and preserved her sovereignty over it. The treaty in this respect simply proceeded on the lines on which all negotiations leading up to the present situation have been conducted. During the years of negotiation and discussion that preceded the conclusion of the Hay-Herran treaty. Colombia never intimated that the requirements by the United States of control over the canal strip would render unstainable the construction of a canal by way of the listhmus of Panama; nor were we advised during the months when legislation of 1902 was pending before the Congress that the thems which it embodied would render negotiations with Colombia impracticable. It is plain that so nation could construct and guarantee the neutrality of the canal with a less degree of control than was stipulated for in the Hay-Herran treaty. A refusal to grant such degree of

to allow the railread to transport troops for either party."

"It thus clearly appears," anys the President, "that the fact that there was no bloodshed on the isthmus was directly due—and only due—to the prempt and firm enforcement by the United States of its traditional policy. During the past forty years, revolutions and attempts at revolutions have succeeded one another with monetonous regularity on the isthmus, and again and again the list sailors and marines have been landed, as they were landed in this instance, and under similar instructions, to protect the transit. One of these revolutions resulted in three years of warfare; and the aggregate of bloodshed and misery caused by them has been incalculable. The fact that in this last revolution not a life was lost, save that of the men killed by the shells of the Colombian gunboat, and no property destroyed, was due to the action which I have described. We, in effect, policed the isthmus in the interests of its inhabitants and our national needs, and for the good of the entire civilised world.

SAVED BLOODSHED.

The President says that long before the conclusion of the Hay-Herran treaty, the course of events had shown that a canal must be built by the United States, or not at all. Nevertheless, when the well-considered agreement was rejected by Colombia and the revolution had ensued, one of Colombia's first acts has been to invoke the intervention of the United States.

and the revolution had ensued, one of Colombia's first acts has been to invoke the Intervention of the United States.

"It. was," continues the President, "under these circumstances the United States, instead of using its forces to destroy those who sought to make the engagements of the freaty a reality, recognized them as the proper custodians of the suvereignty of the isthmus.

RECOGNITION JUSTIFIED.

"This recognition was further justified by the highest considerations of our national interests and safety. In all the range of our international relations, I do not hesitate to affirm that there is nothing of greater or more pressing importance than the construction of an interoceanic canal. Long acknowledged to be essential to our commercial development it has become as the result of the recent extension of our territorial dominion, more than ever essential to our national self-defense.

"The establishment of easy and speedy communication by sea between the Atlantic and Pacific presents itself not simply as something to be desired, but as an object to be positively and promptly attained. Reasons of convenience, have been superseded by reasons of vital necessity, which do not admit of indefinite delays."

The President then cites the fact that the Panama Canal Commission of the Colombian Sepate had, October 14 last, recommended that the discussion of a law to authorize the government to enter upon new negotiations be indefinitely postponed; that the subject be deferred until October, 1904. By that time, the committee urged the extension of time granted to the new Panama Company by treaty in 1803, would have expired, and the new Congress, to meet in October, 1904, would be in a position to take up the question whether the company had not, in spite of further extension that had been granted by legislative acts, forfeited its property and rights.

"When that time arrives," the report significantly-declares, says the President was, was to be relepanted to the indefinite future, while Colombia was hy reason of her w lay, to be placed in the more advantageous position of claiming, not merely by compensation to be paid by the United States for the privilege of completing the canal, but also the $40,000, to be paid for the property of the new Pansana Canal Company. That the attempt to carry out this scheme would have brought Colombia into conflict with the government of France cannot be doubted; nor could the United States have counted upon an immunity from the consequences of the attack even apart from the indefinite delays to which the constructed canal was to be subjected. On the first appearance of danger to Colombia, this government of would have been summoned to interpose in order to give effect to the guarantees of the treaty of 1948, and all this in support of a plan which, characterized in its first stage by the wanton disregard of our own interests, was finally to end in further injury to the citizens of a friendly nation, whose enormous losses in their generous efforts to pierce the isthmus have become a matter of history.

Fire Does Half-Million Dollars Damage to Iowa's Legislative Hall and Lawmaking Must be Deferred. Gov. Cummins Fought Flames.

DES MOINES (lowa) Jan. 4.—Fire gutted the northwest wing of the State Capitol today, causing an approximate loss of half a million dollars. The chamber of the House of Representatives is a charred mass of debris, and cannot be repaired in time for the approaching session of the Legislature. The fire, which started about 10 o'clock, was not extinguished until 6 o'clock this evening. The supposition is that it started either from a lighted candle carelessly left burning or from an electric light wire. It originated near a shaft in a committee room, and spread upward and around the ceiling of the House chamber.

The fire department was unable to fight the flames effectively, on account of the height of the building and elevation of the Capitol site. CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A reduction of 2 cents per hundred on grain has been made in rates from west of the Missouri in Nebraska and throughout lows. Yesterday We Were Taxed Beyond Our Strength=

To the thousands of people who were slighted in yesterday's rush we offer a most humble apology. There's a limit to all human possibilities, and in our opinion there is no store organization in America that could have coped successfully with the crowds which thronged our store, or could have given each customer the attention and service which was due them. The Broadway Department Store is better equipped to handle a crowd than any other store on the Pacific Coast, but yesterday's rush completely demoralized our force of salespeople and floor managers, and many people were slighted. Today, however, we will be able to give you better service, as we do not look for quite so large a crowd. The morning hours are best for shopping, as the crowds are not quite so great before 10 a.m. as during the later hours of the day.

HE RIGHT IDEA.

Mayor Harrison of Chicago appears have got the right idea into his , at last, as regards the enforceent of the law. Perhaps, with Mr. arrison, this new illumination is mewhat in the nature of an even-h-hour repentance; but even the a repentance is better than no pentance—especially if it be gen-

This is well said. It is right. Laws

Mayor Harrison's newly-formed and sparently desperate resolve to encree the ordinances at all hazards, at regardless of consequences, is the stoome of the unparalleled horror at the Iroquois Theater. It seems that he requirements of the law have not ifeation. He exposes the duplicity and greed of Colombia, and shows that the failure to ratify the Hay-Herran treaty was because of a design en-tertained by Colombia to delay all action until the expiration of the concessions to the Panama Canal Company, when it was the intention to confiscate all the property of that company and open new negotiations but the latter relied upon our government to protect it against the just indignation of France. It is plain that if this Colombian plot, conceived in greed and brought forth in bad faith, had been carried out, the United swould paralyse the business, profespional and industrial interests of the gity. For this reason, the Mayor proposes to give the Council full and fair opportunity to revise and amend these profinances in all necessary respects.

After this work shall have been acpomplished, he proposes to see that the laws are enforced to the letter, letting the responsibility rest where it belongs, with the lawmaking power.

It is rather singular, and deeply to be regretted, that the Mayor of Chiingo did not have this inspiration until after a great calamity had emphasized the necessity for a radical change of policy. But the Iroque's litheater horror will not have been without some benefit if it shall serve to bring about conditions in Chicago which will render a repetition of such a calamity impossible. The situation of affairs in Chicago, with reference to the enforcement of the ordinances relating to places of amusement is probably not unlike that in other cities. It is gratifying to note that there is a general revival of interest in the ordinances relative to such places. It is to be hoped that this interest will not be allowed to wane until all such places, in all parts of the country, have been made as safe as it is possible to make them.

And, speaking of the enforcement of law, it is time for a general revival of this somewhat old-fashioned cusiom all along the line. Nowhere, perhaps, is there greater need for a reform of this character than in the city of Chicago, where the laws—and especially the laws touching mainte-reform of this character than in the city of Chicago, where the laws—and especially the laws touching maintenance of public peace—have been set at defance, regularly, systematically, and shamelessly. If the Mayor of Chicago has really experienced a sincere change of heart as respects the enforcement of law in that wicked and lade manifely. administration at Washington "fo-mented" the revolution, are disposed of by the President in a dignified but effective manner, as follows: "Lesitate to refer to the injurious instructions which have been made of complicity by this government in the revolutionary movement in Panama. They are as destitute of foundation as of propriety. The only excuse for my mentioning them is the fear lest unthinking persons might mistake for enforcement of law in that wicked and windy municipality (and we may as well wait for proof before accepting the announcement as a fact) he will see to it that all the laws coming within his jurisdiction are enforced; not merely the city ordinances relating to theatern and other places of amuse-

"It would be well for those who are peasimistic as to our action in peacefully recognizing the republic of Panama while we lawfully protected the transit from invasion and disturbance to recall what has been done in Cuba, where we intervened even by force on general grounds of national interest and duty. When we interfered it was freely prophesied that we intended to keep Cuba and administer it for our own interests. Results have demonagrated in a singularly conclusive fashion the faisity of this prophecy. Cuba is now an independent republic."

Referring to the aid given to Cuba, by means of which she was enabled to establish an independent government, the President says:
"So will it be with Panama. The people of the isthmys, and I firmly believe of the adjacent parts of Centra, and South America, will be greatly benefited by the building of the canal, and the guarantee of peace and order along its line; and hand in hand with the benefit to them will go the benefit to us and to mankind. By our prompt action not only have our interests and those of the world at large oceal conserved, but we have forestailed complications which were likely to ue fruitful in loss to ourselves and in bloodshed and suffering to the people of the isthmus. Instead of osing our forces as we were invited by Colombia to do for the twofold purpose of defeating our own rights and interests, the interests of the submission of the people of the isthmus to those whom they regarded as oppressors, we shall in duty bound keep the transit open and prevent its invasion. Meanwhile the only question now before us is that of the ratification of the treaty. For it is to be remembered that a failure to ratify the treaty will not undo what has been done; will not restore Panama to Colombia and will not alter our onlications to keep the transit open arrows the isthmus and to prevent any out-ride power from menacing this transit."

After this vigorous, straightforward and unanswerable statement of the case by the Chief Executive, there is seem-ingly nothing left for the Senate to do in the premises but to ratify the pending treaty at an early day, with-out any long-winded discussion or other dilatory proceeding. The President shows that he has The action of the Senate Com-tee on Military Affairs in voting mittee on Military Affairs in voting resterday to report favorably the nomination of Brig-Gen. Such a course would necessarily have brought on complications between France and Colombia, but the latter relied upon our government to protect it against the just indignation of France. It is plain that it this Colombian piot, conceived in greed and brought forth in bad faith, had been carried out, the United States would probably have become from the minds of the committee as to the officer's integrity and left him free to perform the duties incumbent upon him in the Philippine Islands without necessitating his return to clear his good name. scene of operations, the President shows that the probability of revolution was a matter of general knowledge to all who read the newspapers and keep abreast of current happenings. As long ago as August, 1903, published dispatches and correspondence from the isthmus spoke of the probability of a revolution, in the event of failure on the part of the colombian Congress to ratify the treaty. Our government would have been remise in the discharge of its obvious duty and of its treaty obligations if it had failed to be prepared for any probable emergency. The President shows, unequivocally, that our warships took no part in the revolution, and landed only about forty marines; which action was taken in furtherance of its treaty obligation to protect and preserve freedom of transit across the isthmus.

The absurd insinuations that the administration at Washington "formented" the revolution, are disposed of by the President in a dignified but the shows that the sumministration at Washington "formented" the revolution, are disposed of by the President in a dignified but the should be a summer than a

In the city of New York no building higher than six stories is approved for construction unless it be thoroughly freeproof. It is unfortunate that Los Angeles hasn't a like provision in her building ordinances. Should a terrible calamity come upon this city some day because of our laxness in this regard it will surprise no one who has knowledge of the situation as it exists at present. It isn't too late, however, for military and naval officers given

government had any previous knowledge of the revolution except such as was accessfule to any person of ordinary intelligence who read the newspapers and kept up a current acquaintance with public affairs."

The President contrasts our forcible intervention in Cuba, in behalf of the revolutionists, with our peaceful recognition of the republic of Panama, as follows:

It begins to look as if Los Angeles would have to ask Mr. Rockefeller about it when the prying around commences regarding the prospect for a union railway station. In other words we are going to have to get our railroad improvements from the same outfit that we buy our coal-oil from. Such being the case we would be better off to be the University of Chicago than in the fix we find ourselves in.

The long-continued dry spell may have dampened the ardor of those who contemplated the celebration of Arbor Day, but the fact should be noted that it the dryer it is this winter, and through coming winters, the more need will there be for shade tress during the summers to come. Let us plant tress and turn the hose on them, trusting in Providence that it will rain some time.

CASINO. Arrayed in a wonder-ful costume of barbaric splendor, Barney Bernard, as Shadrach Les-chinsky, floated onto the Casino stage about the middle of the first act last evening. Shadrach Les-chinsky is a Hebrew magician adrift at chinsky, noated onto the Casino stage about the middle of the first act last evening. Shadrach Leschinsky is a Hebrew magician adrift at the Paris exposition. When Barney plays him he becomes more than Hebrew; he is a Jewish Israelite Heine from the top down. There is the cracked phonograph voice, the pathetio-cunning expression of countenance, the whole unprepossessing personality of a typical son of Jerusalem fresh from the Ghetto. In the course of the play the traditional Short German was introduced to Leschinsky by the equally traditional Long German. The effusive hand-shake of the Short German threatened to be a very extended affair, when his partner shouted. "Let go, Mike; he wants to talk!" The success of a comedian may be measured by his ability to make people laugh, for against merriment all the canons of art are unavailing. Judged by this standard Bernard is certainly a success, for he upsets all semblance of gravity every time he steps from the wings.

"Fiddle Dee Dee," spotless and frivolous to a degree of irresponsibility that would make a musical comedy look serious, has many excellent features, of which clever Barney Bernard is only one. The first "action" is supposed to occur in Paris during the recent exposition. The audience is compelled to concentrate until it finds out these all-important facts, viz: that one Hoffman Bar, an American with nothing but thoney, is painting up the town; that he is in love with one Mrs. Meadowbrook, and that a designing trio, Rudolph Bungstarter, Michael Krutknuckie and Shadrach Leschinsky, propose to do him on the sale of a mechanical doil. After this the breezes of fluffy chorus skirts blow through the plot and for the rest of the show it looks like a shimmer of star-shime.

Edith Mason was in excellent voice last night, and sang a number of favorite songs to the response of numerous hearty encores. More music good to listen to was furnished by the Casino quartette, and Tom Pearsee sang a little bit. A burleague on the "Florodora" sextet, with a queer variation of tune and queerer actions, came in for half a dozen recalls.

The chorus of twenty-five girls has a chance to change its clothes very often in "Fiddle Dee Dee." If one wants pointers on all sorts of styles—everything from a Salvation Army uniformite ultra fantastic undress night-automobiles, this chorus can certainly fill the long feit want. If there is anything lacking the outlandish togs of Rice and Cady will put on the finishing touch.

Rice and Cady will put on the missions touch.

"Fiddle Dee Dee" is an improvement over the first offering of Manager Waldeck's company, and for a production of its kind has very few faults. Some of the songs are a little old, but they are all popular favorites. This show is good for more than one week's run, and doubtless will find the house patronage for many nights to come.

ORPHEUM. The audience that greet-ed the Orpheum Road Show last night was a dressmakers' rhapsody. Society was a dressmakers' rhapsody. Society was out.

The Road Show is always made up of vaudeville aristocracy, so it is idle to say that it was good. Best there is in the business.

Elizabeth Murray, who is still a star with the show, sings a song called "Bedalla," that will be whistled all over the streets before the week is out. It's a sweet, catchy little Irish air. Miss Murray is a splendid performer; ber rag-time talk is simply luscious. As to costume, however, she seems to be outgrowing her bodice.

The Italian street singers, who make a hit here year after year, were perhaps the hit of the show. It is one of the most charming acts on the stage.

After the educated horse of a week ago, now comes a mind-reading dog who can read out the dates of coins handed up by the audience. The Merian dog show act ends with a dog problem her voice certainly fits in with the idea of the sketch. It's enough to move a manager to something emphatic. If fun came as naturally to Fred Ecknoff of the Ecknoff and Gordon team as it does to Johnny Ray, he would be the funniest man on the stage. He has splendid ideas, and succeeds in making them exceptionally funny, but he has always to win the audience first.

The Four 'Nightons, "strong men," Albertus and Millar, club swingers, and Henri Humberty, juggler, are all strong acts.

"Yon Yonson," with a full equipment of phiegmatic movements, childlike expressions and comical dialect, is visiting the Burbank cain. By the size of Sunday night's that he is welmance." Local critics have called this his best play.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE. If you want to get rid of the January feeling, or drive away any premonitory signs of "The Grippe," you might go down to the Grand and bask in the summer warmth of "One Night in June."

There are several nights, so it seems. There is a kind of paper-flower heroine, a lot of good old New England folks of the traditional stage type, and a few humorous characters. Later on there are other things, and the play gets so torrid that one feels inclined to believe that it is no longer a night in June, but midnight of a hot August day.

The first scene is allegedly pastoral-perhaps so because a minister appears in it. There is nothing bad at all in this act, but it is so awfully good that one wishes for a little wickedness just for diversion's sake.

Then the action shifts to the other extreme, and the auditor is shown the interior of a gambling establishment down in the Bronx—a place so dark and deep and bad that no grafting police system on earth, that that of Tammany, could permit it to run. But it is all right, for one thanks goodness that in real life such a place couldn't exist after all. You feel elated by comparison between the real and fancied.

Afterward all hands get back to the scene first shown, and the curtain goes down leaving everybody contantedly happy, comfortably situated with the old folks at home.

BROADWAY THEATER. The Broadway is this week presenting a pleasing "popular-priced" vaudeville bill to good audiences. The offerings include Oro and Coro in a new sketch; Coulter and Carmen, dancers; the Merrills, band balancers; De Onso and Shenk barrel jumpers, and Montgomery, in illustrated songs.

The travel section of the Ebell held an interesting session yesterday. Under the direction of Mrs. Philip Gengembre Hubert, a delightful trip was taken in imagination from Acapaico, Mcs., to the Golden Gate. Mrs. C. Q. Stanton read a bright paper, and illustrated it with interesting curios of Aztec pottery and drawn work.

Mrs. Alexander Campbell gave a happy account of Acapaico, where she once lived, and the delightful personal note was supplied by Mrs. Hubert, who told of many experiences as a traveler along this unaccustomed route.

Next Monday afternoon there will be a lecture recital at the Ebell upon the "Music and Myth of the American Indian and its Relation to American Composition," by Antline Farwell; current events, by Mrs. Chapin, will occupy January 18, and Rev. Robert J. Burdette will talk on "Ethics of the Theater" for January 25.

The Friday Morning Club anticipates delightful events this month. There will be a Beethoven recital by Peje Storek the Sth; "Children in the Literature of the New Century," Mrs. Alice M. FINES IMPOSED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—The directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball League concluded their annual session today, after disposing of considerable business of minor importance. The Los Angeles club was flued 3500 for taking its players off the field during a game at Seattle. Oakland and Seattle were each fined 3300 because their captains refused to leave the ball grounds when ordered to do so by the umpire. San Francisco was fined 3300 for taking an incomplete team to the Oakland grounds. All of the fines were paid. The directors placed themselves on record as being opposed to remitting any fine inflicted.

FEWER BOOKS ARE ON.

Several faces which had grown familiar to the betting public since the present meeting opened were not seen on the block yesterday, and in their place the chance-taking fraternity beheld a handful of newcomers, mostly from San Francisco, who had detarmined to take a few falls out of the Ascot game. At the draw in yesterday noon several layers, among them two Los Angeles men, decided to stay out for the time being at least. They may decide to come in later on. The strocking Club, George J. Common's booking name; Albert Gascoigne, C. E. Matthews & Co., and the St. Louis Club were the absentees; the latter will draw in again at the next occasion, or the one following. and it is thought two or three more layers of odds will put in an appearance by the latter part of this week. All depends on how good the game becomes.

Jockey Monk Coburn, who threw a leg over his first winner and only mount of the meeting yesterday, left for New Orleans last night. Coburn has some interests that require attention in the Crescent City, and will probably ride there this winter.

The investigation of Warts Nicht's last race resulted in no action by the stewards. Satisfactory explanations were made. So long as the officials show their present seal in investigating every race that has any semblance of "funny business" the public's interests will be well taken care of.

It was a common saying around the ring yesterday that those who failed to cut in had the best of it for once, and saved their money by staying out on "Blus Monday."

Ex-Councilman Ben S. Lauder was noticed cashing in mearly every bet he made yesterday.

Ton McCarey, ex-boxing promoter, picked nearly every loser on the card, and stayed off the really good things-schwartswold for the place. McCarey has a system of figuring form all his war, one day he picked one of Tommy Jriffin's string to win, saying he had never heard of the horse before, but was satisfied Griffin was not lugging any dead ones across the continent. The seleption won handly enough, roving the reasoning, while somewhat cut of line, certainly was more reliable han some other "dope" that is trying round lose.

J. B. Spencer (Missouri Joe.) blew into Los Angeles yesterday morning from the Mojave Desert, in spite of his dread of being run over by automobiles. Since the invasion of the desert by Dr. Ussher's "red devil." Spencer says he considers life as safe in the city as in the desert solitudes, so he took a chance to come in to runsact some business. Spencer has used finished doing a lot of assessment work on mining claims in the Provisiones Mountains for Chief of Police Elton, Capt. Bradish, Ex-Sergt. Jeffries and others. He has prospected and mined in that region for the last en years, and reports unnaunt activity at the present time, occasioned by the rading of the Salt Lake road through the desert to the north of the Provisioner range. which horses to play. I saw society girls whose names would surprise you, crowding in with fast women to see the posting of the odds on the betting. I saw a woman that they say is a "plunger" and makes her living by following famous race horses from place to place.

Candidly I never believed until yesterday that there were such places outside "The Sporting Duchess" and the fervid imagination of young men reporters.

fervid imagination of young men reporters.

I thought it was another fairy tale like the one about women betting on the handsome jockeys and colors, that don't swear at each other. The bright young men who write that brand of rubbish, it is plain to see, have never been in a woman's betting fing.

The women do not bet on handsome jockeys. A woman's betting ring is about the coldest-blooded place you can imagine. The women who bet have it figured down finer than dress-goods bargains.

Most of them are not giddy young girls. The surprising thing is that more than half are sedate-looking women of at least 50 years. The racing men say that these are the heaviest bettors.

It was the queerest experience I saw wrinkied old women fishing to money from motherly-looking to money from motherly-looking opping bags to bet, and heard them

Some of these fellows were very year.

Since semed to take more interest in the pool boys than in the races.

CAUGHT HER.

Some of these fellows were very, very good looking. There was one especially. It goes without saying that he took most of the bets. I—ahem—on the last race, he took my bet:

The younger women made eyes at them. After the races, this good-looking one went around paying the compliments of the day and asking his cutousers how they had come out, exactivities a beau at a big dance.

One of the pool boys was a lanky, sour-looking youth with one arm, and he had troubles.

I was standing next him when a woman reproachfully howled, "Why, you told me he was 16 to 1."

The boy made a gesture of disgust. "Oh, of course," he said. "It was my fault. I made the mistake sure. It's darn funny, though, that with all these women I am always the one that is wrong. Say, I make about four thousand mistakes a day."

The woman looked squelched and walked away.

Just before the last race, the park policeman stationed in the balcony came up to a queer little bundle in woman's clothes. She was a little wisened, bent woman, not really so old, but dumpy and queer and elfish, dressed in the dowdlest clothes you ever saw.

"Well, how are you making it?" he said crossly. Her gray shopping bag was flopping wide open. Is there anything more disconsolate, more powerty—stricken than a pocket-book flopping wide open in a crowd? It is so tell-tale!

"I haven't made a winning today," she said; "and I haven't got a cent

HER INSIDE POCKET.

The light suddenly gleamed in the queer woman's eyes. She grabbed up her skirt and fished out at little wad of a purse from a pocket that hung on her petticoat.

"There," she said, tragically, as she held it up, "that's my last $10."

"Never mind," said the policeman consolingly, "you'll be winning tomorrow again."

She did not answer, but disappeared through the crowd.

While the policeman was still standing there, a dear, little old woman, with a kind of shrewdness about her eyes came up to him, and said in quite a charming way, "I think I will ask the policeman."

Het was pleased, and took her programme, "I am not betting today myself," he said, "but if I were. I think I would take home money by playing Gehelmmess."

"What for?" she said, sharply."

and I sighed, too.
On the curtain of my room is a pathetic little slip of yellow paper pinned; they say yellow is for sadness and gloom. Also, it may be remarked, I have changed my mind about going to the Langtry matines.

Do you know what that means?

AT THE CITY HALL. CONOMY URGED BY THE MAYOR.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S ANNUAL TO THE CITY COUNCIL.

Bond Issue for New Jall Sug-gested in Message — Plan for Rounding Business-street Curbs. His Honor Advocates a Purchas-

Mayor M. P. Snyder sent his annual nessage to the Council yesterday. It ontains much sage advice and many moded.

Experience has convinced the Mayor that the city needs a purchasing agent, a cement tester and a cement inspector, all to be civil service appointes.

The Council is felicitated on the proper selection of the site for the Polysteehnic High School.

Comment on the several city departments and on municipal projects now under way or in contemplation makes up the remainder of the message, which follows in full:

a accordance with the requirements the city charter, I herewith present rour honorable bedy a general statest of the condition and affairs of municipal corporation, together i recommendations for the adoption such measures as seem expedient proper.

While there is great need for numerous and extensive undertakings on the part of the municipality, yet owing to the limited income derived by the city, we will be unable to properly supply all demands for public works and betterment of municipal conditions. However, many necessary improvements can be made by careful management of the funds that will be available.

DOMESTIC WATERWORKS.

DOMESTIC WATERWORKS.

It has been demonstrated that the city took a wise step when it purchased the various properties now combined in the domestic waterworks system. The revenue from the plant has been sufficient for maintenance and operating expenses; has defrayed the cost of permanent extensions and improvements in keeping with the expansion and development of the city; and has met the sums due for interest and principal on the waterworks bond issue.

The city has not only increased its visible assets and income enormously, but the taxpayers and residents have been further benefited by a reduction of 10 per cent in the flat rate and of 50 per cent. In the meter rate—all without one cent added taxation.

I cannot speak too highly in commendation of those in charge of the Water Department and their energetic and business-like procedure in maraging the extensive matters coming under their care.

Your honorable body should ever stand ready to aid the Water Department in its efforts to benefit the water service. Especially should you aid them by adopting any legislation recommended for the protection of the water system, both from waste by consumers and from encroachments on the sources of water supply by private parties. Legislation to protect the city's water from pollution should also be favorably considered.

Eyery endeavor should be made to

ui) sar din the sa

city's water from pollution should also be favorably considered.

STREETS.

Every endeavor should be made to maintain our streets to a degree in keeping, with the size and general high tone of the city. In providing for the improvement and care of the public thoroughfares you should be especially sealous in exacting faithful performance of work both by contractors and by city employes. Poor streets are unsanitary, unsightly, and injure greatly the general attractiveness of Los Angeles.

Owing to the vast increase in the traffic on the business streets any proposition to increase the roadway area on the down-town streets should receive your careful consideration.

In this connection I desire to recommend that you provide for circular curb-corners at all intersections on Broadway, Main, Spring and Hill streets. By cutting away the corners of the sidewalks at such points so as to leave a circular corner with the corner of the adjacent building as the center of the arc, from eight to ten feet would be added to the roadway at every intersection, greatly relieving the congested traffic at these points, and leaving a sidewalk equal in width to the footway at other points along the streets. At present the jutting walks and curbs at street corners are in the way of vehicles turning the corners and the additional sidewalk space is of little use to pedestrians.

The general appearance of the city would be considerably improved if the numerous streets with "jogs" in them could be straightened or made continuous by curving the roadway. I desire to recommend that such irregularities in street lines be remedied even if the city is compelled to resort to condemnation proceedings to secure the land necessary to rectify these unsightly impediments to traffic. Los Angeles is destined to be a great city and real property values are certain to increase greatly in the near future. The city should proceed at once to rearrange its streets in the best possible minner, as such work can be done at less expense now than at any other time.

I particularly urge you to provide for sprinkling the business streets often enough to keep the dust thoroughly suppressed at all times, Dust in the business section is ruinfous to merchants' stocks and a great offense to all the people.

to provide for this enlargement of the force.

The most urgent need of the Police Department is a new jail building. The present city Jail is wholly inadequate to the demands made upon it. In many features the city prison has proven defective. Owing to the growth of the city and the number of arrests made the accommodations for prisoners are weefully small. If you can see your way clear an early bond issue should be made for the purpose of securing a modern jail structure large enough for the demands of many years to come.

The city, your honorable body, and the Health Department, are to be con-gratulated on the securing of new and

FIRE DEPARTMENT.
The Fire Department is doing effective work. With the addition of new apparatus already provided for, including a water tower, this department will be the peer of any in American cities of equal size.

LIBRARY.

cremped quarters at present allotted to this department make it extremely difficult for the library to keep pace with the growth of the city.

PARKS.

The Park Department is in excellent condition; the working-force deserving high praise for the efficient labor it has performed. Great difficulty has been encountered in getting the necessary water for the parks. This defect has been overcome by laying new pipes.

sary water for the parks. This defect has been overcome by laying new pipes and connecting with the domestic water system. This will provide plenty of water for irrigating and sprinkling as well as for the various lakes, and at the same time will use less water than under the former antiquated manja system.

SEWERS.

The necessity for a new outfall sewer as well as for a perfected internal sewer system is recognized by all. The cesspool, now the only possible method of sewage disposal for a large portion of our residents, is undesirable in every way, and entirely out of keeping with the progressiveness of this city.

CIVIL SERVICE.

This branch of our governmental system is rapidly being perfected. It has been sufficiently tested to prove that it will be a great factor in providing better government for this city. In no city department has the operation of civil service ruels been more advantageous than in the Water Department, where the corps of employes, trained under the exacting management of the old water company have almost all been retained under civil service; and where new employes have been obtained of high efficiency because of the careful examination conducted bythe Civil Service Commission.

All large concerns employ a buyer, or purchasing agent, to attend to securing supplies. I recommend that you create the position of city purchasing agent to be filled by a civil service appointee.

Under our present system it is but natural that deputies or heads of departments in making purchases should patronise their political or personal triands. Ten effen little attention to given to the price of the articles secured and to their quality.

A city purchasing agent would devote his entire time to buying the goods needed by the various city departments, familiarising himself with market conditions and keeping records delivery of the goods provided the requisitions.

This idea appeals to me as being highly business-like and I trust will meet with the sanction of your honorable body.

TO TEST AND INSPECT CEMENT. .I recommend creating the position of city cement tester and also that of of city cement tester and also that of city cement tester and also that of city chief cement inspector, both to be civil service appointees.

The amount of cement work done here makes it imperative that every protection be afforded the property owners to guarantee good work. Too much poor cement construction has already been done in Los Angeles.

The cement tester and chief cement inspector would necessarily be experts if they passed a civil service examination. Responsibility for goor material or incompetent work could be readily placed, and the standard of cement construction would be greatly raised to the beneft of the city.

CITY CHARTER.

I desire to recommend to your honorable body to provide at an early date for the appointment of a committee of citizens to consider proposed revisions of the city charter and present any desirable amendments for submission to popular vote at the next general election.

be a working body not so large as to be unwieldy, and should include the City Attorney as a member.

Los Angeles is an unusually progressive community with an intelligent and cultured citisenship. It is not difficult for public officials to ascertain the trend of public sentiment on any question that arises, and we should earnestly strive to follow the dictates of the majority of our employers—the people—as evidenced by public opinion. Let us strive to merit the commendation of our constituents and perform our duties with credit to ourselves and honor to the city.

I desire to thank your honorable body for the uniform coursely which you have shown the Mayor of the city. I trust that our relations will continue to be most pleasant.

M. P. SNYDER, Mayor.

MAY CLOSE THE GRAND.
COUNCIL THINAS IT UNSAFE.
Warned by the terrible holocaust at Chicago, the Council took action yesterday to prevent dangerous theater fires in Los Angeles.
Building Superintendent Krause was directed to make an examination of every theater in this city and to report their condition as regards fire precautions to the Council at the earliest possible day.

The Council went further and empowered the Building Superintendent to close the Grand Operahouse, on Main street near First, if the management-refuses to provide suitable exits. Councilman Todd made the motion. He said that the Building Superintendent and informed him that the exits were not in proper condition, and that the manager of the theater had refused to change them.

"I have been trying to have the exits at the Grand changed for some time," said Mr. Krause, later. "The south exit, in particular, leads into a store building instead of connecting directly with the street. I am going to make another thorough examination of the theaters in company with Chief Strohm of the Fire Department. The theaters must keep uniformed firemen on duty and more strictly observe some other regulations of the building ordinance."

A committee consisting of Superinendent Krause, Architects John Parkinson and John C. Austin. Councilmen Skilling, Farish and McAleer. J. W. Morrow of the Fire Underwriters. Electrician Manahan, Fire Chief Strohm and Plumbing Inspector Bennett, has in hand the revision of the building ordinance, and when its report is presented, two weeks hence, it will doubtless recommend some stringent regulations for theaters.

MANAGER'S VIEWE.

Manager Clarence Drown, when told by a Times reporter yesterday afternoon that his Main-street house might be closed, appeared indignant and pussiled.

"It's a piece of rank injustice," he exclaimed. "If the Council thinks my theater should be closed, why, let them close it, but I should like to see a little fair play about the matter. There are a number of the smaller theaters here, built in store rooms or such places, with absolutely no fire protection, and usually only one small exit. These places are veritable fire traps, and have little pretense of fire protection.

"The Grand Operahouse was built by O. W. Childs, and is the oldest first-paimy days gone by, when world-famous stars were playing on its boards,

"Its stage possesses the only auto-matic sprinkler in the city—a series of pipes perforated and plugged with parafine, so placed that any unusual heat would melt it, thus flooding the stage with the full pressure of the municipal water system. We have nu-merous exits and a careful staff of at-tendants. I have no 'kick,' so-called, but I do feel hurt at the hysterical dis-crimination against the Grand Opera-house, when there are other amuse-ment places far more dangerous to the public life running unmolested ev-ery evening."

ever for houses with less than ten rooms.

To the committee of the whole was referred a proposed license ordinance reducing the license on phonograph pariors from $100 to $25 a quarter, and the license on theaters charging not more than 25 cents to $25 a month or $5 a day and on these charging more than 25 cents admission $50 a month or $5 a day. The present license for any theater, concert hall, place of amusement, entertainment or exhibition is $100 a month or $10 a day.

An ordinance was adopted changing the boundaries of the oil refinery district so as to include a small strip of land in the Eighth Ward.

On motion of Notziger the City Engineer, was instructed to prepare plans for a bridge across the river at Aliso street, to be built jointly by the city and the Los Angeles Railway Company.

The City Attorney was instructed to borhood quarrel as to whether the boys shall coast on the sidewalks of Vallejo street between Avenue 21 and Daly street, and the communication was referred to the Chief of Police, with instructions that he must enforce the ordinance against coasting.

Building Superintendent Krause made application to the Council yesterday for transportation to assist him in going the rounds of buildings in course of construction. He pointed out that the amount of building last year amounted to $13,000,000, as compared with $0,000,000 in 1900. Krause wants a horse and buggy, and the communication was referred to the Finance Committee.

The bid of J. M. Tibbetts of $2447 for the construction of the new fire engine-house at Pico and El Molino streets was accepted by the Council.

Councilman Farish was granted a thirty-day leave of absence, on account of the sudden death of his mother, and the Council adopted suitable resolutions of condolence.

S. G. Marshutz offered $500 for the street railway franchise beginning at Pico and Flower streets, and running on Pico to Main street, and north on Main street and Broadway to Tenth street.

A statement will be made before the Police Commission today that whatever sum of money was paid Kate Miller by Policemen C. J. Redmond and J. M. The Mayor said last night that he wished to be informed about this phase of the case. and the Los Angeles Railway Company.

The City Attorney was instructed to present an ordinance compelling the sait Lake Railroad Company to place drawgates on both sides of its track across Macy street, at the east end of the river bridge.

The petition of the boys who wished to coast on Vallejo street was denied out of respect to the older people who have rheumatism, it was said. There appears to be something of a neighborhood quarrel as to whether the hogs shall coast on the sidewalks of Vallejo street between Avenue 21 and Daly street, and the communication was referred to the Chief of Police, with inferred to the Chief of Police, with instruction of the sidewalks of Vallejo street between Avenue 21 and Daly street, and the communication was referred to the Chief of Police, with instruction of the property of the coart.

Some of these dates covered the time just prior to the date of the will, when Mrs. Laura Hill maintains that the deceased was in Alaska.

Mrs. Laura rose to the occasion. She cross-examined the witness, and called for the picture of Salem Charles that was produced as evidence by Miss Charles. Then she inquired when Miss Charles. Then she inquired when Miss Charles had last seen her uncle, Salem Charles. Then she inquired when Miss Charles had last seen her uncle, Salem Charles.

"I saw him last in April, 1884," was the reply.

"Did he have any wife?" was the next question.

"No," was the monosyllable response.

"How do you know that?"

"Because he told me so."

That was all, and with this brief bit of questioning, the case for the proponents closed. Judge Wilbur told Mrs. Hill that if she chose she could go upon the stand herself, but she was not without some glimmering of shrewdness. She said that she had no attorney or witness, and would not attempt to put in any of her case.

The position was unique, and the court remarked that probably in that proceeding the rights of the widow might be involved. That gave Mrs. Laura another chance to put in a word that only the will was being passed on. And in that she understood that only the will was being passed on. And in that she was right, counsel on the other side stipulating that judgment might be entered without prejudice to any rights Mrs. Hill on the proceeding the rights of the will contest was contest. Apparently we stand upon the threshold of a great revolution in our ideas of chemistry. We know that there is a tendency among the higher elements to break up into the simpler, as in the case of radium separating into helium. Speculative chemistry fluds the canne due to a different arran-ement of the ultimate particle, although it is probable that this cannot be conclusively demonstrated. If this process takes place in one element, it may in others. Thus there is no reason, so far as the present state of our chemical knowledge goes, why it may not others. Thus there is no reason, so far as the present state of our chemical knowledge goes, why it may not be possible to transmute lead into wold. It is quite likely, however, that the process, if it should ever be discovered, would be so expensive that it would in no way affect our commercial or financial worlds. Even if we find the philosopher's stone, it is not likely to avail us much, and will go into the cabinet along with the "clixir of life" and liquid air.—[Boston Transcript.

F. M. Swan of the Pacific Slope (for this is as definitely as he can be located.) is in Los Angeles, and will remain in Southern California several months. "I suppose I am a sort of walking Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Swan said yesterday, "It is my business to know and assist Lourists with reliable information concerning any place on the Pacific Slope, which they may intend to visit. Whatever I do for tourists is absolutely without charge, as I am employed by the chambers of commerce in various cities on the Slope. Any attempt of this kind is reported to me, and the offender is dealt with according to penalties imposed by the organized associations which I represent."

"This scheme is a promotion enterprise. For instance, if I meet tourists in Seattle, who expect or want to visit Los Angeles, I furnish all sorts of printed matter, views and little souvenirs, free of charge, which will give them a good idea of the city and adjecent country. Then, too, I look after the exhibits that are maintained by various counties and cities, in other places, and see that these exhibits are kept up to date and strractive. said Ex-Senator R. N. Bulla yesterday in discussing local conditions.

"We have had foisted upon us," continued Senator Bulla, "instrumentalities that are making for disorder and demoralization. And back of it all is the apparent determination of a restless few to bring about industrial conditions that have militated against progress in sister cities.

"When a community complacently tolerates the continued ridicule and abuse of constituted authority and permits the peace officers to be harrassed and lied about by evil doers there is cause for serious reflection. It is true that police officers should exercise judgment and eare in making arrests but when error is charged the public should extend to the officers every consideration and give them the benefit of the doubt until a full investigation can be had. The present systematic attack upon the local police force doesn't have a good look. Back of it is the spirit of anarchy and it can only encourage disorder and crime. If wrong has been done, there is a legitimate way of correction, and that is not by publicly attacking the force and holding it up to ridicule.

"Cur city is continually infested by the criminal element, attracted here because of the activity peculiar to new and rapidly developed sections, and there is peculiar heed of efficient police protection. Such protection can only be secured by giving the officers every encouragement, and not by causing them to feel that they lack the moral support of the community. It was a sorry day for our city hen blatant yellow journalism found place in our midst, to support the walking delegate and the rule or ruin policy—perhaps both. It is only a question of a short time when all good citizens will be forced to combine for protection against what has been well designated as 'the yellow perli."

"Let us wake up to a sense of our city ic responsibilities and protest against the systematic undermining of law and order by those who hate the law's officers."

WIRE THIEVES IN THE TO IN THE TOILS

ORGANIZED BAND BROKEN UP BY

THE POLICE.

One Member Shot and Three Others Arrested—Wounded Man Probably Will Have to Submit to Amputation of Left Leg.

The shooting of Harry Birdsull, a wire thief, by Deputy Constable G. Brown, night watchman in the employ of the Pacific Electric Rallway Company, early yesterday morning when the officer caught him stealing wire, has resulted in the breaking up of an organized band of thievir—hobos who have been preying upon that company. After Birdsall was taken to the Receiving Hospital, he gave the officers such information that caused the arrest of George Robinson, George Walters and E. Jenking other resembers.

Birdsall made no effort to conceal his own guilt, but for a time tried to shield those who were associated with him. He said he had met five men whom he did not know early in the evening at Fourth and San Pedro streets, and they had asked him to accompany them in a raid upon the material yard of the electric reliway company. The gang met at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and went Herniock street, where they secured a quantity of copper wire. They had placed several bales of it in a wagon, and were taking more from the company's yards when Deputy Constable Brown came upon them and opened fire, bringing down Birdsall with the first shot, the builet shattering his left knee joint. The other members of the gang made their escape, but the police found their wagon contining the stolen wire and watched it. Their vigiliance was rewarded before daylight by the appearance of three other games, two of whom were carrying wire, and the three were placed under arrest.

Yesterday was not the first time Deputy Constable Brown opened fire upon man could play a more important part in diplomacy at the front than the United States Minister to Korea, Hon. Horace Newton Allen.

Mr. Allen is a native of Delaware, O., and was born 45 years ago. Despite his comparative youth, he has been a leading figure in Korean politics for a number of years. Graduating from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1883, he immediately entered Sterling Medical College at Columbus and completed the course in 1885. The same year he received an appointment as medical missionary to China from the Freebyterian board. Allen stayed in China only a year. Then, recognizing the superior opening in Korea, he settled himself in Seoul, the Korean capital.

Allen's position at first was one of obscurity. He dared not reveal his identity as a missionary and could practice medicine only in a limited way. One day during a riot near the palace, the King's nephew received a deep spear thrust. All the royal doctors and conjurers were summoned in I aste, but their services availed little, and the scion of royalty seemed to be bleeding to death. Suddenly some one thought of the young light-haired American doctor, and he was summoned. Allen found that the learned quacks had endeavored to close the wounds with wax. He brought into play his knowledge of surgery and saved the young noble's life.

Allen sprang immediately into fame. He was invited to live in the King's palace, receiving the appointment as royal physician. In 1881 he was largely instrumental in securing Korea's independence from the suserainty of China. The next year he was sent to establish the Korean legation in Washington and stayed here two years. When he returned he desired to resume his medical practice, but instead was invited to take charge of Korea's exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair.

President Cleveland recognized the importance of Allen's position in the royal household and appointed him formal clemeral at Seoul. President McKinley rajsed his office to the rank of a full-deged United States Minister.

BOULEVARD PROPOSITION AGAIN

Walter Raymond—"Nervous Pa-tients" Not Wanted—A Man Care-less in Money Matters.

PASADENA, Office of The Times, No. 28 South Raymond Avenue, Jan. 5.—After having been dormant for a year, the proposition of a boulevard between Los Angeles and Pasadena was again brought before the city of Pasadena at the monthly meeting of the directors of the Board of Trade, held last night in the Board of Trade, rooms on West Colorado street.

The matter was brought before the board by a delegiation of interested Los Angeles and Highland Park citisens composed of the following gentiemen: Judge W. R. Bacon, George Wilson, J. W. Jeffrey and C. E. Patterson, Messra, Bacon and Wilson represent a large per cent, of the property interests along the proposed route of the blockman.

Cencerning the object of their visit to Pasadens at this time Judge Bacon casti: "About a year ago a dozen or more of the leading citizens of East. Los Angeles went before the Supervisors and induced that body to appropriate 23500 for the extension of Avenue & from the eastern boundary of Los Angeles to the city limits of Pasadent at a point opposite Madeline drive. The appropriation was conditioned upon Pasadena's building a bridge over the Arroyo Seco to complete the road. At that time Pasadena's answer was that she would not build the bridge until we could show conclusively that the connecting strip of road would be built. That is just what we propose to show. We have been at work on the project for a year past, and we are now prepared to state unequivocally that if Pasadena will build the bridge, which is within her boundaries, we will see that the road is built. We are ready to go to work immediately if Pasadena will evince a willingness to build the bridge. Such a structure, as required could be erected of wood and iron for a sum between $1000 and $1000, and the point proposed

The Board of Trade last night appointed the same committee that it placed in charge of the matter last year with instructions for this committee again to bring the matter before the City Council. The members of this committee are: Messrs. Thomas Earley, Herman R. Hertel and William R. Stsats. It was voted to be the easse of the meeting that the bridge as proposed ought to be built by the city just as soon as the city is assured that the road leading up to it will be built. A clause was inserted specifying that the road whall have a grade not to exceed 6 per cent. and a width of not less than thirty feet.

have not had time to get together the matter will probably not be brought

RAYMOND RECEPTION.

Never has a more delightful nor more diaborately-appointed afternoon reception been given in Pasadena than that of yesterday when, between the hours of 3 and 4. Mrs. Watter Raymond of the Raymond Hotel was at home to the women of the Four Hundred of Pasadena and Los Angeles.

The magnificent drawing-rooms were tragrant with a wealth of flowers and afforded a fit setting for so brilliant an assemblage.

Palms and sword ferns. Hined the hallway of approach to the spacious reception-rooms. Here daylight was excluded. Mrs. Raymond received alone in the pink and gold drawing-room in which the floral decoration was as unique as beautiful. In either corner, forming a background, were banks of potted begonias and maiden-hair ferns. The electroliers were shaded with pink flower shades and were garlanded with smilax and pink roses. Tall vases of pink roses and low vases of pink sweet peas were introduced about the room effectively arranged on small tables and in the center of all this loveliness the hostess received her friends. Mrs. Raymond wore an exquisite costume of white chantilly lace embroidered with rose pink chiffon, which harmonised ideally with here surroundings. Her oroaments were diamonds.

In the blue room adjoining a punch table occupied one corner and was presided over by Mrs. W. P. Nelson and Miss Alice Coleman. Mrs. Nelson was gowned in white orepe de chine with a graniture of pearls, and Miss Goleman wore a dainty frock of French gray with violets as a cornage bouquet.

The red room, which was used for the collision, was bower-like in its lavish floral embellishment. The table—spread in the center of the spartment—was in the form of a Greek cross, and from the chandelier above were stretched heavy ropes of smilax to its many corner. The lights were shaded with red and great copper-colored vases were filled with American Beauty roses in the same brilliant culor. Rose petals were scattered on the cloth with sprays of smilax and as a centerpiece a bank of American Beauty roses and maidenhair ferns were arranged in a low mass. Fairy lamps and red-shaded candelabra added to the beauty of the ornamentatio.

STIRS UP TROUBLE.

Residents of the pretty suburb adjacent to Sierra Madre Villa Hotel are much wrought up, it is said, over an institution which has been recently established in their midst. There are with the said of the residual in their midst. There are which are likely to be brought before the County Supervisors.

The trouble was caused by the establishment of an asylum for "nervous" patients in the hotel, once one of the handsomest and most popular of tourist resorts in Southern California. Residents of the neighborhood declare that these patients are nothing more nor less than insane people, and they don't think that anybody has any right to keep such people as place not provided with the ordinary precautions to keep such people are reported to be sleeping with the cover over their heads, their doors and windows locked and barrel and "guns" under their pillows, not knowing when some persory with the hallucination that he is appointed to reduce the population, may appear armed to the teeth.

The now occupants of the Sierra Madre Hotel have been transferred from the San Gabriel Sanatorium by Dr. J. W. Harpson, who has leased the moleil for six months from the J. Villas as one sight miles northesst of this city, and located at the foot of the mountains. In former times it was the sceine of much gayety, parties of dancers frequently going there in the monilight to trip the light fantastic until far into the next day.

About four miles of good roads have aiready resulted from the organization of the Improvement Association in the Cerritos district. The Ferris road has been remade from the Anahelm road two and a half miles west. They will be given a permanent surface as soon as a good rain comes. The appearance of the district has been greatly improved in other ways and the people feel more than satisfied with their labors. A number of the property owners along Appleton sireet in the Alamitos are working to have a row of shade trees planted on each side for its entire length. So far they are meeting with encouragement on every hand and now feel sure of being able to carry their improvement through.

Work will be commenced on the new grade for East First street at once and the property owners commenced this morning to buildings to correspond.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Miller, who have been spending the winter with their daughter, Mrs. L. E. Grigsby, left this morning for their home in Cincinnali. They will spend some time in Colorado Springs on the way.

A movement is on foot to organize a gun club here. It is meeting with the support of all the trap experts and a good many who enjoy the sport without being in their class, and will undoubtedly be a success.

Californians, especially can fully sympathize with Elsa in her poetic burst of emotion, Picture to pourself this young lady. The hour is late (or early.) Possibly she had been occupying a strange bed. Perhaps it was in a California hotel. For hours her sleep has been undisturbed, but suddenly she is awakened by a lively "nip;" then more of them. At first she imagines it is a case of "lich" resulting from the numerous buckwheat cakes in which she has indulged for several days past. In vain she tosses about seeking the rest which is not hers. Finally she arises and turns on the electric light and begins a systematic hunt for the seat of trouble. The bed clothes are thrown back, and—yes, there it is! two or three little black obpacts, skipping and hopping about.

"Fleas! Horrors!"

Who, then, can blame Elsa, that she should, after half an hour's fruitless attempt to corral the "pesky critters," feel the inspiration to sharpen her pencil and hastily dash off the above lines? We've all "been there" but we haven't all felt the "inspiration" to put our thoughts in an expressible condition on paper and give them to a waiting world. We've preferred to put in the time scratching our bites and making-unkind remarks about the carelessness of oid Noah in every taking those two fleas into the ark to forever bother mankind.

The divine Patti is to sing in Los Angeles Saturday night, and it is authoritatively stated that she has her "farewell tour" intentions on straight.

A CLUB of young men who designate themselves as the "Dee Dees" entertained a number of their friends at the home of Charles Homer of West Thirtieth street. The club was recently organized and this, its initial party, was a great success. The halt was tastefully decorated with holly and mistletoe; in the parlors long streamers of scarlet crepp paper were festooned from the corners of the room to the chandeliers, while from underneath great bunches of the bright holly and mistletoe were suspended. During the evening the punch bowl was presided over by Miss Stewart.

The first part of the evening was spent in dancing and fortune telling. At midnight the dining-room proved a highly-attractive spot. The place cards were unique affairs of yellow leather cut into diamond-shaped forms, upon which were burned the club emblems together with the date. Raiph Bohn, who departs shortly for Europe, acted as toostmaster, and toasts were made by the following: Charles Homer. Carlton Allen, George Powers, Clarence and Ethel Fuller.

The dining-room was decorated in the club colors, black and gold, and the lights were shaded with gold-colored paper.

After supper the Virginia reel was danced and then the guests bid their host good-by. Mr. Homer was assisted in regelving by Mrs. Homer and Miss Stewart. Those who enjoyed Mr. Homer's hospitality were Misses Laura Dealer, Hortense Jones, Anita Ward, Jane Hawk, Bess Towble, Myrtle Brown, Ethel Fuller, Ruby Fuller and Messres Robert Dealer, Ruby Fuller and Messres Homer, Carlton Allan, Clarence Weber, George Powers, August Martz, Graham Widmere, Carl Hunf and Paul Lenz.

The house was most beautifully decorated, the front room being in white carnations and sword ferns. Clusters of the carnations were here and there about the room, while the mantel and carners were banked with graceful ferns. In the drawing-room pink carnations together with palms and papyrus made a dainty setting for the pretty gowns and faces of the host-essen and their guests. In the diningroom poinsettias were used most effectively; a huge bunch of the gorgeous blossoms made the centerpiece for the table, and clusters of the flowers were used to make a cheery finish in the room, where the lights were shadowed with red, and bows of attin ribbon added to the grace of the tables.

There were about two hundred guests present and all united in saying that this was quite the most enjoyable tea of the season.

storm at an elevation of fow feet or more he has missed an experience that will doubtless, should he ever pass through it, add several gray hairs to his head. To me a thunderstorm back East held no special terrors, and frequently I have been out in such a demonstration without feeling any especial nervousness. Up here on the Rocky Mountains things are different, and I confess now to live in awful, abject terror of a thunderstorm, especially at night in my tent. I suffer this terror notwithstanding the fact that so far the storms have in every instance except one gone around or beneath us without even raining enough to wet the ground. But it is the "going around and beneath" that gets into my nerves. In the first place, imagine what it is to be one and one-haif miles nearer a "ip-roaring thunderstorm than one is at Pittsburgh. There you have occasional flashes of lightning; here it is one continuous, dazsiling, awe-inspiring performance. The lightning strikes, too, for it is no uncommon thing during a storm to hear the rocks spilntering and cracking where one especially vigorous bolt has landed.

Add to this nerve-racking exhibit the

you can imagine and a "straight blowing" wind that sometimes makes the fiaps of your tent play a ragtime melody, and you have some idea of a mountain thunderstorm. The thunder is worse than the sound of a mighty battle. It bangs us against the mountain side and and reverberates and rolls off into one ear-splitting concussion after another until you, lying quaking in your tent, fully believe that the next "boom" will split mountain and valley in twain and land you in China or some other seaport town.

"I lay one night and with chattering teeth counted five distinct thunderstorms come up to the edge of the plateau of which my tent stands, and each time go through an electrical performance that would give "Tom" Edison a dumb ague, and through it all not a cupful of water fell on my tent. Later on in the night, when I had regained something like my usual majestic calm of mind, it began to rain steadily and the thunder and lightning didn't even whisper. They had doubtless gone off down the cafion, scaring some other poor tenderfoot half out of his witz. These electrical displays are as seemingly much dreaded by the
